ONLY SKIRMISHES REPORTED TODAY

A Russian Admiral Reported Shot by Court Martial.

Some of the Russian Soldiers Are Reported In Starving Condition —Outposts Still Fight.

WAR NEWS GETTING SCARCER

London, Sept. 13.—Dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from General Kuroki's headquarters state that skirmishes between the Russian and Japanese advance guards are taking place with increasing frequency, although the troops state that a general battle is not expected.

ORDERS NEW SUBMARINES.

Berlin, Sept. 13.—The Frankfort Gazette says that Russia has ordered an American firm to construct twenty-five submarine boats of the new improved type, which will rise and sink rapidly. The price reported is $200,000 each.

DANGER OF STARVATION.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13.—Reports from Mukden this morning state that rain continues. Reports also say that the Russians quartered about Mukden are in danger of starvation.

NO ENGAGEMENT.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13.—Gen. Kuropatkin reports that he has received no news of an engagement today. There is a considerable force of Japanese, he says, seen forty kilometers southwest of Mukden.

OFFICER REPORTED SHOT.

London, Sept. 13.—A dispatch from Paris says that a report is current there that Rear Admiral Prince Outhomsky was tried by court-martial and shot at Fort Arthur. The court-martial it is said, has been the result of the Prince's disobedience of the Czar's command that he should not return to Fort Arthur after the sortie of the Russian fleet Aug. 10th last.

NO RUSSIANS CAPTURED.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13.—The report in the London Morning Post that General Sasalitch's force of three thousand composing the Russian rear guard had been captured by the Japanese is denied in official circles here. It is also denied that Rear Admiral Prince Oukhlomsky was shot for disobeying the orders of the Czar. His disobedience, however, will result in his recall.

WHERE THEY CONCENTRATE.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13.—Gen. Kuropatkin reports that the Japanese are concentrated at Yuan Padza, south of Mukden.

KUROKIS' COMMUNICATIONS OUT.

London, September 13.—The Daily Mail's correspondent with the Japanese repeats the Tien Tsin report that Lieutenant General Linavitch, with 50,000 men, invaded Northeastern Korea and cut General Kuroki's communications with Feng Wang Ching.

FALLEN BACK ON RUMORS.

St. Petersburg, September 13.—(2 p. m.)—With the lull in military operations and an almost entire suspension of dispatches from the front, St. Petersburg has again fallen back upon rumors.

Countless stories are afloat regarding the Russian defeat at Liao Yang, some of which are absolutely absurd, while others have apparently enough basis in fact to give them a color of possibility.

Of first importance is the revival of the rumor of Viceroy Alexieff's resignation, based probably upon differences said to exist between him and General Kuropatkin and others in authority in the Far East.

Of next importance is the rumor that General Kuropatkin is to be superseded, Lieutenant General Linavitch being named as the most probable successor. This is supposed to rest upon the emperor's displeasure with Kuropatkin's generalship at Liao Yang and general dissatisfaction with the course of events at the front.

Neither Alexieff's nor Kuropatkin's friends seem to attach great importance to the stories involving them.

MAINE REPUBLICAN 33,000 PLURALITY

The Republicans Polled Overwhelming Vote.

The Gains Are Not Material, However, and the Democrats are Well Pleased.

ALL RETURNS NOT IN YET

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—The republicans carried the state in the biennial election yesterday, the returns indicating a plurality of about 33,000 for Wm. Cobb, the republican candidate for governor, compared with 33,384 for Hill, the party candidate four years ago.

In the First and Second congressional districts the returns indicate the election of Amos L. Allen and Chas. E. Littlefield by about the same plurality as four years ago. In the Third district F. C. Burleigh ran ahead of his vote of four years ago.

Early returns show that the democrats have probably made slight gains in both branches of the legislature, but that body will be strongly republican and will probably re-elect United States Senator Eugene Hale.

The vote was the heaviest cast since 1888.

IT TICKLES PARKER.

Esopus, Sept. 13.—Satisfaction is expressed here over the result of the election in Maine. Judge Parker and his sympathizers are elated that in a state so overwhelmingly republican, putting forth the largest vote since 1888, the democrats should have made a gain of 31 per cent. to the republican gain of 15 per cent.

112 FOR WHEAT

THE HIGHEST YET SINCE THE BULL CAMPAIGN BEGAN.

Chicago, September 13.—Sensational advances were made in wheat today when the figures reached the highest price since the present bull campaign was inaugurated. New September wheat reached 112 and May option 117. The market was influenced by higher cables and the improved demand for flour and the scarcity of cash wheat.

SEVERAL MURDERED.

A Wholesale Massacre in New Guinea Averted.

Brisbane, Queensland, September 13.—News has been received from German New Guinea, that natives attacked the Catholic mission and murdered Father Waschen and Ruttar, Brothers Bley, Planchart and Schellekens and Sisters Sofia, Agatha, Annie, Agnes and Angela.

Thirty-six natives were captured and sixteen of them were executed for the crime.

The design of the natives was to murder all the whites, but this was frustrated.

CALL ON BRYAN.

Indiana Populists Demand That He Do
His Duty.

Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 13.—Without dodging behind the bushes or hesitating the Indiana populists have come out with a request for William Jennings Bryan to do his duty to the people who have followed him for many years by coming out in support of the populist candidate for president, Thomas E. Watson.

JAPS ARE ADVANCING RAPIDLY
St. Petersburg, September 13.—The Birzanevna Viedmosti's correspondent at Tiepna telegraphs his paper as follows:

"The Japanese, who had been accused of moving forward slowly, are now advancing very rapidly. Little avails the Russian increase of troops, for the Japanese are receiving reinforcements from New Ohwang. The initiative will remain in the hands of the Japanese and their tactics will always be repeated."

GUNS ARE POPPING AT WALLACE PARK

Trap Shooters Association is Holding Annual Meeting.

Scores of Crack Shots Already Here,
With Many Others Coming
Daily.

A LARGE CROWD OUT TODAY

The State Trap Shooters annual meeting, together with the sixth annual tournament of the Paducah Gun Club, began this morning at Wallace Park, with one of the largest and most representative crowds ever seen at a shoot in Kentucky.

While a large number are already here, many more will come all during the meet, especially for the live bird matches and championship contest the fourth day.

The visiting shooters are: Marshall, Keethsburg, Ill.; Spencer, St. Louis; Brady, Newbern, Tenn.; LeCompte Eminence, Ky.; Wilson, Natchez, Miss.; Q. Ward, Paris, Ky.; Clay, Paris, Ky.; Anderson, Salina, Kans.; Moaders, Nashville, Tenn.; P. O. Ward, and Guy Ward, Walnut Log, Tenn.; Money, St. Louis; Prowse, Moss and Nall, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Pinkston, Vicksburg, Miss.

Members of the local gun club taking part are: M. Starr, Ben Starr, Mercer, Hansbro, Armstrong and Beyer.

M. Starr, Ben Starr and Mercer are shooting fine, being bunched with Spencer, Brady and Money for high gun at 1:30 o'clock. At that hour 155 targets had been shot at and they had missed in the neighborhood of thirteen each. LeCompte, one of Kentucky's best marksmen, was doing poor work. During the day 159 targets will be shot at, also the same number tomorrow.

Haskell Hughes is the official referee. Today's shooting is a 15, 20 and 25 target event. For the 15 clay pigeon matches the entrance fee is $1.50 with $5 added, while $2 entrance fee is $1.50 with $5 added, while $2 entrance fee and $7 added money is for the 20 bird event, and $2.50 entrance fee and $10 added for the 25 bird matches. Tomorrow will consist of the same events, while on the third day the first event is at seven live birds with $5 entrance fee; the second event is at 12 live birds with $10 entrance fee, and the third event at 20 live pigeons with $15 entrance fee. The money will be divided according to the usual custom.

On the fourth day a seven live bird match at $5 entrance fee will be and then followed by the state championship event which is at 25 birds with $10 entrance fee, class shooting and money divided 30, 25, 20, 15 and 10 per cent.

NOTES OF THE SHOOT.

More shooters will arrive this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow. The live-bird shoot Thursday will probably be the biggest pulled off anywhere in the country this year.

Among the shooters here who have national reputations are: Tom Marshall, mayor of Keethsburg, Ill.; Spencer and Money, of St. Louis.

The day has been ideal for shooting and the traps worked to perfection.

Official Referee Haskell Hughes is giving entire satisfaction. He is an old-timer at the business.

Refreshments are served in the club house. They consist of barbecued meats, coffee, bread and "extra." Good cigars are also furnished.

Dr. P. H. Stewart, Dr. Horace Rivers and Dr. W. L. Hansbro are seeing that the visitors enjoy themselves. They are the boys who can do it.

There is an absence of visitors at this shoot. Nobody can get into the grounds without a ticket. Heretofore tickets were not necessary and the spectators were many.

Again the Starr boys are distinguishing themselves. They have shone bright

REGISTRATION LAW WILL BE TESTED

Suit Filed at Covington, Ky., to Determine its Validity.

Plea Is Made That It Is Contrary to Sections 145 and 147 of the State Constitution.

ADDS TO BURDEN OF VOTER

Suit has been filed in Covington to test the constitutionality of the law passed by the legislature at its last term requiring every voter to procure from the officers of registration at the time he registers a certificate which he must present to the officers of election when he presents himself to cast his vote.

The suit is against C. B. Yates, the county clerk of Kenton county, to enjoin his preparing, printing or issuing certificates in blank to the officers of registration on the day of registration. The prayer is added that the injunction be made permanent.

The suit is filed by Attorney John L. Rich, of Covington, and is signed by Attorneys David W. Farleigh, George DuRelle and Burton Vance, of Louisville.

Mr. Louis McQuown, of the democratic State Central committee, has been notified of the suit, and may be present to defend it in person. By agreement, the hearing on Tuesday will be final, so far as the circuit court is affected, and an appeal will be immediately taken, which ever way the decision results.

The appeal will be filed as soon as the court of appeals meets, on September 19, and will be, by agreement, advanced on the docket so that it may be finally adjudicated before the day of registration.

The new law required that in cities of the first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth class a day of registration be set preceding each election. In cities of the first, second third and fourth class it was provided that when a voter registers he shall be issued by given a certificate of registration, which shall be issued by the officers of registration.

No man shall be allowed to vote on election day unless he shall present this certificate to the officers of election.

The law provides that in case the certificate be lost or misplaced the voter may go before the county clerk and make an affidavit to the facts, when it shall be the duty of the county clerk to issue a duplicate certificate, charging a fee of 50 cents for the clerical service.

It is claimed by the plaintiff in this suit that the law is unconstitutional, and is a limitation of suffrage and an additional qualification of suffrage, which is contrary to sections 145 and 147 of the state constitution.

These sections of the constitution provide that every male citizen over twenty years of age who has lived in the state, county and precinct the time required shall be allowed to vote. They also provide that the legislature may provide by law for the manner of registration in accordance with the constitutional provisions.

The general claim set up in the suit is that the law for a certificate of registration is one which abridges suffrage, limits the voting element, and adds an illegal burden upon the voter.

MARRY NOBLEMAN

ENGAGEMENT OF A PITTSBURG GIRL AND A MARQUIS IS ANNOUNCED.

New York, September 13.—Formal announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. James B. Oliver, of Pittsburgh, of the engagement of their daughter, Edith, to the Marquis Alfred Desmet de Smours, of Paris. The party has just arrived from Europe and the wedding will occur in this country this fall. The marquis is said to be descended from an ancient Italian family.

TRAIN ROBBERS MAKE A BIG HAUL

Took the Engine and Made Their Escape.

The Russian Lena Will Probably Remain at San Francisco and Dismantle.

TENEMENT FIRE IN NEW YORK

Davenport, Iowa, September 13.—A hundred armed men, divided into groups are pursuing five train robbers who held up a Rock Island train near Letts, Iowa, early this morning. They dynamited the express car and secured between ten and twenty thousand dollars. The robbers made their escape with the engine which they abandoned near Columbus Junction, Iowa.

GUARDED BY UNCLE SAM.

San Francisco, September 13.—Guarded by the United States torpedo boat Jaul Jones, the Russian artillery cruiser Lena, lies at anchor off the Union Iron Works, where she will likely remain until the close of the war. The boat is in bad condition and several months repairs will be necessary before the Lena is in condition to put to sea. She is almost certain to be dismantled and remain here.

SEVEN BURNED TO DEATH.

New York, September 13.—Seven people were burned to death in a tenement house early this morning, and several others were badly burned. Among the dead are: Anton Conno-witz, wife, and two boys.

MAY MAKE REPAIRS.

Washington, Sept. 13.—After a conference at the state department this morning it was authoritatively announced that the Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena, at San Francisco, is in actual need of repairs requiring about six weeks to complete, and under the law will be permitted to make the repairs. It is stated, however, that anything in nature exceeding such repairs as are necessary to make her seaworthy will be prevented by the authorities.

WOULDN'T GET OFF

JUDGE REFUSES TO VACATE AT WINCHESTER.

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 13.—Circuit court began yesterday with larger criminal docket than usual including three murder cases. The case attracting most attention, however, is a damage litigation of Mrs. Marcum against Fult French, Ed. Callahan, Alex. J. James Hargis for $100,000 damages claiming to murder her husband, James B. Marcum, who was killed at Jackson some time ago. The case is set for Thursday and both sides say they will be ready.

Judge James Hargis filed affidavit in an effort to swear Judge Jas Benton off the bench, but Judge Hon refused to vacate. Judge Hargis' affidavit recites that at the democratic convention of 1904 he was a candidate for reelection as member of the state central committee from the Tenth congressional district; that the night before the convention met he held a meeting with his friends and perfected an organization which enabled him to win; that Benton was not invited and was not sent; that Benton heard of the organization he was indignant and decided his election would be an outrage and he would disrupt the party; that A. F. By who is attorney for plaintiff, assisted Benton in this opposition, and that Byrd personally hostile to Hargis and bent on speaking to him.

STATE CAMPAIGN WILL OPEN SHORTLY

The President's Letter Marks
the Beginning.

The Republicans in Kentucky Are Hopeful of Success—Good Speakers Are to Come Here.

MUCH GOOD WORK DONE

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13.—Chairman John C. Wood, of the speaker's bureau of the Republican campaign committee of this state, has not yet decided finally on the date for opening the campaign, but it is likely that the first big Republican rally will be held in Kentucky September 22.

President Roosevelt's formal letter of acceptance of the Republican nomination marks the beginning of the opening of the national campaign on the Republican side.

In quick succession the Republican organizations in every state in the union from now on will announce the date of their formal openings, and will assign their orators to speaking dates.

Already it has been announced that Michigan, Montana and Washington will have their opening September 15, Nebraska, and West Virginia, will begin September 17; Indiana and Iowa September 20; Pennsylvania, September 21; Minnesota, September 24, and Ohio October 1.

Chairman George B. Cortelyou of the national committee, is now completing the assignment of dates for the prominent speakers at the disposition of the committee. As yet no official announcement of dates has been made, but at local Republican headquarters information has been received that this state will not suffer in the assignment of speakers. Chairman Wood has asked for some of the best talent at the disposal of the national committee, and has assurances that some men of national reputation will be heard on Kentucky stumps.

While there has been no great stir in the Republican ranks in this state, there has been a quiet, determined and persistent campaign conducted by the committee form the headquarters at the Galt house. Since the last campaign the Republican organization in Louisville and Kentucky has been entirely changed. The infusion of new blood, coupled with the fact that Republican hopes are always higher in a national campaign, has caused the organizers to get down to work early and with a determination to win.

Richard P. Ernst, chairman, and Thomas L. Walker, secretary, of the state central and state campaign committees, have already proven their peculiar fitness for the position they occupy. They have thoroughly distributed literature all over the state and set about building up a new organization to work at the polls, to see that the majority which the Republican party has in Kentucky under normal conditions is brought out. It is thought that the solid Republicans, independents and disgruntled Democrats, if properly rallied and organized, cannot fail to bring a Republican majority in November.

To a great extent the fact that national office holders are to be elected this year partially removes the ever-present fear of Democratic thefts at the polls, for the federal court has jurisdiction of election frauds of a certain nature.

That the apparent apathy to matters political will not affect the vote is illustrated by the tremendous Republican majority given in Vermont. Previous to the election there it was daily lamented that but few people attended the Republican rallies. In spite of this apathy the vote came out on election day, and it in no way interfered with the Republican majority.

Using Vermont as an example, the Republicans in Kentucky and other states do not see how the much-feared lack of interest can injure their chances. The further fact that the Democrats must exert far greater energy in this campaign than their opponents is considered a good omen.

Republican campaign managers say they have been, and will continue to be, willing to meet the Democrats at every point where an issue has been raised. The attacks on President Roosevelt's personality have been welcome, for this is considered by Republicans one of their best weapons. So-called militarism and imperialism are considered dead is-

CHIEF DISPATCHER RESIGNS HIS JOB

Mr. V. H. Stevens Arrives From Louisville to Succeed Him.

Superintendent of Machinery Renshaw In Paducah Inspecting the Shops.

OTHER LATE RAILROAD NEWS

Mr. J. E. McIlwaine, chief dispatcher of the Paducah district of the Illinois Central, has been transferred to the Louisville office and Mr. V. H. Stevens, a trick operator under Chief Dispatcher North at Louisville, has been appointed to succeed Mr. McIlwaine here.

Mr. Stevens is now in Paducah and will take charge of the office tomorrow. He worked here several months ago while Mr. A. J. Jorgenson was ill and is acquainted with the Paducah district work.

Mr. McIlwaine was formerly a trick dispatcher here and succeeded Mr. J. T. Cheek as chief dispatcher in August. Mr. Cheek went west. Mr. McIlwaine will go to Louisville probably tomorrow to work on a trick.

Superintendent William Renshaw, of machinery, of the Illinois Central, and his assistant, Mr. Joseph Buker and General Storekeeper J. M. Taylor, of Chicago, will arrive in the city today on business. They are on a tour of the southern lines of the road. The Paducah shops are receiving many new machines and the mechanical officials are constantly keeping in touch with the progress made in the local shops.

Roadmaster F. L. Thompson, of the Louisville division of the I. C.; Supervisor W. O. Waggener, of the Louisville division, and F. H. Brinbridge, engineer of bridges of the I. C., system, left Paducah this morning for Louisville on a general inspection of bridges and buildings. These officials have been going over the division for several days and have just finished an inspection of the Evansville district. They will work up the division paying particular attention to bridges. The work of excavating at Tennessee river bridge will be inspected thoroughly.

The Illinois Central has started warfare against the sale of Coca Cola on its trains and bulletins have been posted in all trainmen quarters ordering conductors to see that news agents sell no more.

The bulletin reads that here lately the seats and furniture in the coaches had been badly damaged by Coca Cola being spilled on them, costing the road much money, and that the sale of liquid on trains must cease.

Saturday night when the north bound train on the Illinois Central reached Bolivar, as the agent went to put on the mail, he found the door closed. On investigation, the mail clerk was found unconscious beneath several sacks of mail.

Foul play was at once suspected. The railroad foreman, on searching the track, found mail scattered all the way from Middleburg to within 30 yards of Bolivar. Part of it had been opened. The letters were turned over to the postmaster at Bolivar.

The affair is being investigated by both the railroad and postoffice authorities.

REBELS ON TOP.

Reported They Have Again Defeated the Government Troops.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 13.—A further heavy engagement between the insurgents and the troops of the government, in which the latter are reported to have been defeated, is said to have occurred in Uruguay. Rumors concerning the casualties are conflicting.

Negotiations between the Paraguayan government and the revolutionists there are still proceeding.

For the reason that four years ago the people put their stamp of approval on what the Republican policy in this direction has been.

How Cairo Lost Yesterday.
Vincennes, Sept. 13.—With Holycross in the box and exhibiting almost his usual form, the Cairo team went down before Vincennes. The support given by Holycross was wretched and is responsible for many of the runs.

Duffy pitched for the locals and was accorded almost perfect support, the only error being made by Birekott on an exceedingly difficult chance that should have counted a hit. Most of Vincennes' hits were made in the third when Gwin scored two men ahead of him with a home run. Dummy Hughes got a home run in the ninth.

Kane, of Washington, Ind., is playing in place of Lemon who is disabled, and caught a fine game.

HEAD SOLID SORE

Awful Suffering of Baby and Sleepless Nights of Mother.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Skin Fair as a Lily with no Scar to Recall Awful Sore Writes Mother.

"I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease, eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering and myself many sleepless nights."

"My babe was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of, but nothing seemed to help; in fact, it grew worse. Her hair fell out where the sore was, and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment right away. To please him I did so, and to my surprise by their use the sore began to heal over; the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore, and it is over eight months and no sign of its returning."

Mrs. Wm. Ryer, Elk River, Minn.

"Cure permanent." So writes Mrs. Ryer, Feb. 25, 1903, six years later:

"Your letter of the 19th inst. received, asking in regard to the cure of my baby some six years ago. Well, the disease has never returned to her head which at that time was a solid sore on top and down the back. Once or twice since then a patch has come on her hand near the wrist, but it finally disappeared after proper treatment with Cuticura."

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap and Ointment, 25¢ each. Prepared by J. C. Benson, Lowell, Mass. U. S. Pat. 1,117,111. Made in U. S. A.

Manager Scullin of the Cairo team is disgusted with the game put up yesterday and leaves for Cairo tomorrow.

The score:—
Innings, 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—r h e
Vincennes, 0 0 4 0 3 0 0 0 8—7 8 1
Cairo, 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—3 6 8
Batteries: Duffy and Kane; Holycross and Cross. Umpire, Zinkins.

In the second inning of the game at Milwaukee Saturday, Manager Cantillon, of the Milwaukee team, assaulted Umpire Shuster and a policeman escorted the manager off the grounds. Shuster seems to be receiving the same treatment in the American Association as he did in the Kitty. "Red" Gilligan has been released. Gilligan can play ball, and do it well, at that, but the management could not find any good excuse for his poor work in the last several games, and so they turned him loose. He umpired at Paducah Saturday and Sunday, but it is not known whether or not he has been officially appointed.—Hopkinsville New Era.

The Secretary Talks.
Says the Cairo Bulletin:
"The following from Secretary Farnbaker will be read with interest by Cairo fans:
"Arguments are unnecessary, as only the first games on Labor Day count. Paducah and Vincennes played off last postponed game on August 9. See section 2, article XI as follows:
"Section 2. All championship games shall be arranged in a written or printed schedule to be adopted by a majority vote of the schedule committee before the opening of the season and the secretary shall transmit a copy of the adopted schedule to each club not less than one (1) week before the opening of said championship season. The schedule shall provide for an equal number of games to be played with each club at home and abroad. No transfer games in said schedule shall subsequently be changed except by written agreement of the clubs desiring such change when approved by the secretary, who shall notify the other clubs of the transfer of the game from one city to another."

CAIRO TEAM TO DISBAND.
From the information received from Cairo by Mr. J. E. English who wanted to take the Cairo team and play Paducah a series of post-season games, the Cairoites will not play Paducah as they intend to disband the team. If this be correct then the Paducah challenge issued today will not be taken up by the Cairo management.

A LITTLE DOPE.
What did the Woggle Bug say? He said that Cairo can't win the pennant this year even with Central League players.
With Bonno for Paducah today and Goodwin for Vincennes, it is a dead cinch that Paducah will win and Cairo will not.

Charles Street, catcher for the Hop-town club last season, has reported at Cincinnati to go with the Nationals.
The regular passes issued by the local association will not be good at the Pittsburgh-Paducah exhibition game.

The club standing in the Sun this afternoon is modified by taking out the game with Clarksville which has heretofore been counted against Paducah. This game was declared forfeited to Clarksville because the team refused to play when Sam Jackson owned it, and Pres. Thompson decided to allow it played.

The batteries for today's game will be Willis and Pettit for Clarksville and Bonno and Land for Paducah.

The management does not yet know who it will pitch in the Pittsburgh game, but it will probably be Bonno, whose turn to pitch is today. Tomorrow McGill, Brahe or Freeman will pitch, or may be Doll, and leaving Bonno with one day rest for the Pittsburgh game.

The telegram which the local baseball management sent Pine Bluff managers to play a series of games here, did not reach the Pine Bluff manager because he was in Viesburg, but this morning the telegram was ordered forwarded and Mr. Thompson expects an answer by night.

Mr. Ben Weille received a telegram from Mr. Barney Dreyfus today stating that the Pittsburgh club will leave Cincinnati tomorrow night and reach Paducah Thursday morning in their special sleeper at 4 o'clock. This will give them all day in Paducah.

President Gus Thompson, of the Paducah ball association, telegraphed to Cairo this morning offering to play Cairo a series of games for "money, marbles or chalk," anything the Cairo manager wants to put up. If the Cairo sport who had $2,000 to foolishly bet will step to the front he can get it covered.

Mr. Dick LaRue returned from St. Louis this morning after attending the air.

Man W. Bullet Through His Brain Recovers.
New York, Sept. 13.—Frederick Bock, who attested to end his life by shooting, at home in Newark, N. J., last June, recovered from the effects of a shot in the head, the surgeons say, passed through the sides of his brain. When he was taken to the hospital the doctors declared there was no hope for his recovery. The contrary, it has been found, the bullet did him good, and his condition is now better than before.

Up-saving the hospital Bock was turned over to the police, and will be held in charge of attempting suicide.

TO END TOMORROW.
Hopkinsville, Ky., where he is employed as a case against Mrs. Willis, at 4 o'clock for alleged murder, telephoned today that the case will probably be finished tomorrow, and the trial of her son, hence Willis, will then come up.

Same Near Being Drowned Near Louisville, But Was Saved Out.

HE IS GOING TO ST. LOUIS

Clinging to a rock scarcely visible above the turbulent waters of the Indiana chute, Squire Matthews, who had traveled from Pittsburg in a small flatboat, was rescued from almost certain death by the life-savers yesterday afternoon after his frail boat had been capsized and dashed to pieces on the rocks, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. Matthews was on his way from Pittsburg to St. Louis where he intended to attend the World's Fair.

Matthews was discovered by the watchman on the life-saving station tower yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His boat was near the Indiana shore and moving slowly down stream. It is the custom of fishermen to run their boats in close to the Indiana shore at that time of day and little attention was paid to Matthews. When next seen his light boat was whirling and tossing in the whirlpools in the chute. At this season of the year this is the most dangerous portion of the falls, as it is filled with rocks with edges sharp as knife blades and these reach just to the surface of the water or a little below. Almost before the alarm could be sounded, Matthews had been thrown from his craft by the swirling currents and with the greatest luck, landed on a rock, while his boat was crushed and ground to kindling wood a few feet away.

A crew from the life-saving station was sent to his aid and reached him shortly after his boat disappeared and succeeded in pulling him from the rock to which he was clinging while the spray from the rapids dashed over his head.

Matthews was one of three men who left Pittsburg three weeks ago bound for St. Louis. All left the city in flatboats and at different times. Matthews being the first to start. It was the intention of the men to meet in St. Louis and set up an exhibit in the World's Fair grounds. Matthews' home is in Canton, O., which he left nearly a month ago. Since that time he has spent his days on the river earning his living by fishing and trading, although this was handicapped by the small boat in which he traveled. A small flatboat, scarcely fifteen feet long and not more than ten feet wide, has served him as a bed for nearly four weeks.

After being taken from the river Matthews hid his story to Capt. William Devol of the life-saving station, and then set off in search of a boat in which to continue his journey. He soon found one which suited his fancy and, making a bargain with the owner, was given explicit directions by fishermen along the river and continued his journey. Matthews was disappointed at the speed he has been making, saying that he had thought he would be able to reach the Mississippi in the time he had taken in reaching Louisville. He has not heard of the two men who intended leaving Pittsburg shore after his departure.

HELPED HIM SOME.

Man W. Bullet Through His Brain Recovers.

New York, Sept. 13.—Frederick Bock, who attested to end his life by shooting, at home in Newark, N. J., last June, recovered from the effects of a shot in the head, the surgeons say, passed through the sides of his brain. When he was taken to the hospital the doctors declared there was no hope for his recovery. The contrary, it has been found, the bullet did him good, and his condition is now better than before.

Up-saving the hospital Bock was turned over to the police, and will be held in charge of attempting suicide.

TO END TOMORROW.
Hopkinsville, Ky., where he is employed as a case against Mrs. Willis, at 4 o'clock for alleged murder, telephoned today that the case will probably be finished tomorrow, and the trial of her son, hence Willis, will then come up.

"DO IT TODAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough, or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TODAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boech's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25¢; regular size, 75¢. For sale by DuBois, Kohl & Co.

SOME EVILS OF THE NEW SCHOOL BOOK LAW EXPLAINED

The Louisville Post thus explains the evils of the new school book law: After four days' arduous work only half the 25,000 Louisville graded school children have succeeded in obtaining their school supplies for the term which has just begun. They have got 74 per cent. as much study material in inferior books as they had last year and have paid about 78 per cent. as much money for it.

This is the first year of the supremacy of the American Book company, which had hitherto figured in the school world as one of several contending dynasties. It is now in control of Louisville and will remain so for five years, under the uniform school book act of the last general assembly. The county will buy the new books beginning next year.

For and Against Change.
Local educators realize both advantages and disadvantages in the change. At least, they recognize one advantage: that the company furnishes some kind of material at a price actually less than heretofore paid by the pupil for this year's necessities.

Against this is set off the following:

DARIUS GREEN.
The Aerotera, Invented By Him, Not Only Flies But It Goes a Mile a Minute on the Ground.

Covington, Ind.—James Stern, a local mechanical genius, is constructing a flying machine which he has recently invented. There are two large wheels eight feet in diameter, built like bicycle wheels, connected by a horizontal shaft. Two pedals or a bicycle motor will furnish the power to turn the wheels. They connect by chain with a cogwheel on the shaft.

Attached to the wheels on the outside are four large canvas covered fans and overhead is a monster kite containing thirty-six yards of canvas. Back of the two wheels is a similar one, so the machine may run on the ground also.

The inventor claims the machine will run on the ground at the rate of a mile a minute, and, by turning on the fans, will soar into the air. It will be a month before the machine is completed.

Owing to the fact that the machine may be utilized in the air or on the earth he calls it the Aerotera.

state of fact: The new books are generally inferior to the old in paper, printing and binding, and the subject matter is so abridged as to make necessary much instruction wholly outside of the pages if the courses are not to be greatly curtailed.

Change Is Expensive.
The one advantage to be seen in the change, which is the smaller actual cost, is as yet only a doubtful advantage. Any change in text books, even should the new cost but 50 per cent. as much as the old, is expensive. Year by year families send a child to the public schools, and at the end of his term his books are stored away carefully to await the time when his younger brother or sister may go over the ground. Old books, including Harper's readers, Butler's grammars and White's arithmetics, have been in use for more than fifteen years, and have accumulated in hundreds of homes.

Price Always High.
The belief of local book handlers is that the state previously paid an excessive price for good quality books, and is now paying a still more excessive price for inferior ones.

WOMAN BANDIT CHIEF.
Sofia, Sept. 1.—Government troops have at last succeeded in capturing the woman bandit chief, Dascalita, and fifteen of her female followers after a hard battle in which three soldiers were killed and many wounded.

The female bandit leader, a young girl of 22, was considered the belle of her native town two years ago, and was engaged to marry a government official, who however, jilted her just before the marriage.

It was this which drove her to become a bandit, and for eighteen months she has terrorized the country and made traveling unsafe.

Her last feat which caused the troops to follow her to her mountain stronghold where she was captured was the plundering and burning of the village of Agamenitza.

The women of the village joined their husbands in the defense of their homes and two of them were killed.

NEW FEATURES OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

A College Paper Will Probably be Printed.

The Decision of Circuit Judge W. M. Reed Will Become a School Rule Now.

ENROLLMENT IS NEARLY 2,500

The teachers and pupils in the High school are developing college features and will shortly start a newspaper to be published twice a month and also will start a dramatic club which will be in charge of Miss Stewart, late of Cincinnati, who came here to teach in the High school in the place of Miss Kirk.

The teachers and committee of pupils visited the newspaper offices yesterday, but have not decided which office will print the paper as one or two business managers could not be seen and their bids secured.

The teachers will edit the paper and the contents will be written by the pupils. This is done in colleges and some college papers are widely circulated and very popular.

The dramatic club will be a new feature also and the pupils are taking a lively interest in it. The only thing in this line the schools have ever had was the Friday afternoon exercises when orations and recitations were programed.

Trustees Hock and Reddick, who were elected last night to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Trustees McFadden and Overby, will accept. Dr. Reddick will serve until January 1st, 1906, and Mr. Hock until Jan. 1st, 1905.

Superintendent C. M. Leib stated this morning that the decision of Judge Reed in the matter of legal age for children entering school, would stand as a school rule. The rule that no pupil who was not 6 years old on or before July 1st, preceding the opening of the schools could enter, is supposed to have been formed from an opinion of the attorney general when Mr. Geo. O. McBroom was in office he wrote to the state superintendent for a construction of the law, and he in turn is supposed to have written to the attorney general. "Judge Reed's decision, at any rate," Supt. Leib continued, "will stand as a rule."

The school enrollment yesterday was 2,476, but many more entered this morning and will continue to come in all the week. The attendance will not be known until the schools settle down. The attendance is never as great at the enrollment, many pupils dropping out after the first week or two.

The matter of transferring pupils from one school to another and deciding on the proper school for pupils to go was discussed last night and left to the discretion of the superintendent.

The school board had been acting on such matters when the superintendent could not settle the matter satisfactorily himself, so it was left with him. Some little trouble is often experienced from parents who want their children to go to one school when they live out of that district.

The board also completed the adoption of text books for the High school. The course was outlined and adopted some time ago, but the text books had never been fully decided on.

FULTON BOY

RESIGNS AT ANNAPOLIS ON ACCOUNT OF EYESIGHT.

Midshipman Guy C. Freeman, of Fulton, who was appointed by Congressman Ollie James, has arrived home to remain indefinitely in hope of recovering his health and eyesight.

For several weeks he had been in the hospital of the naval academy at Annapolis, Md., on account of eye trouble and nervous prostration. His friends endeavored to get a leave of absence for him but the academy refused and Mr. Freeman was compelled to resign.

Mr. Freeman can, and will likely return to the academy within a year if his health is entirely restored. He can do this without another examination.

JUSTICE BURNETT'S VACATION.
Justice J. H. Burnett left today for St. Louis to visit his daughter, Mrs. Charles Curtis, and attend the world's fair. He will remain for only a few days, and expects to be back by the end of the week.

Five masked men blew open the safe of the Toledo and Ohio Central depot at Wapakoneta, O., and secured about one hundred dollars.

LOST IN WILDS

Gov. Durbin Has a Harrowing Experience in Dakota.

Was Found By Indian Scouts Half Starved.

Indianapolis, September 13.—Lost on the plains of South Dakota, Governor Wignell T. Durbin spent three days and two nights in the open, without any food, except two small sandwiches. When found by Indian scouts, who had been impressed by his friends he was nearly starved. News of the occurrence has just been received here. His companions thought it best not to advise the Durbin family of the affair until the result of their search was known.

The governor is camping with a party on the plains. He mounted his horse and set out for a ride, but underestimating the speed at which he was traveling. When he sought to return the camp was not in sight, and no familiar object was in view. He sought to return, but the trail was completely lost.

The governor had taken no account of the direction in which his horse had traveled, and, after wandering about for several hours, he was forced to camp out alone for the night. Thinking his friends would start a search for him, and fearing that he would get further away from the camp, he remained at the place where he had tethered his horse till late the next day, but none of his friends appeared, and again he tried to reach the camp. Night overtook him and he was forced again to remain in the open.

In the meantime several Indians were employed to assist in the search. On the morning of the third day they came up on him by following the trail that had baffled his friends.

CAPTAIN VOSS.

Little Three-masted Canoe Tillikum Is at Anchor in Margate Harbor After 41,000 Mile Cruise.

London, Sept. 13.—Captain Voss of the three masted Tillikum of two and a half tons, which anchored in Margate harbor this week, is perhaps the only cockleshell navigator who looks more at home in a top hat and a Prince Albert than in oilskins.

The Tillikum has traveled 41,000 miles, starting from Vancouver, B. C., three years ago, and finishing in the tank of the London hippodrome next week. It is nothing but an Indian dug-out canoe forty-three years old, thirty feet long, and two feet six in depth of hold, with a tiny cabin protruding fourteen inches above the deck. Instead of a bowsprit it has a carved prow like a Viking ship, and its three masts look like small bean poles. It spreads thirty-eight yards of canvas.

Old salts of Margate shake their heads and refuse to believe that the Tillikum ever weathered a gale, but the skipper is armed with proofs. He attributes his success in riding out all kinds of blows to a canvass sea anchor of his own invention.

As a mascot he carries the skull of the Indian who carved out the canoe. In the Pacific a green sea carried away his crew and compass and sent them to the bottom together. With this exception Captain Voss had no serious accidents.

LINEMAN ON VACATION.

Lineman J. W. O'Bryan, of the Postal Telegraph company, in charge of this division, left today for St. Louis on a vacation. It is his first lay-off in a long while, and he will be absent about two weeks. Mr. Richard Stone, of Rives, Tenn., is here to work in his place during his absence.

STUDY OF NOSES.

A New Pastime for the Summer Holidays.

London, Sept. 7.—The study of noses as a profitable pastime in summer holidays is suggested in an article in the Spectator. This decorous weekly does not, of course, approach the subject from that of a physiologist and asks: "Is the sense of smell dying out among civilized men?"

Although an entire segment of the brain is apportioned to the olfactory fibers, what we now possess, the Spectator says, on authority of physiologists is probably a mere remnant of a once powerful mechanism.

Pointing out the faculty of scent possessed of the brute creation and savage and uncivilized races, the Spectator demonstrates the extent whereto the higher races are discontinuing the use of their noses by calling attention to the fact that there is no word in the English language such as "blindness" or "deafness" to signify the complete absence of perception of smell.

Then it urges attention to the degenerate organs of smell, and says, "We use spectacles to assist eyesight, ear trumpets and artificial ear drums to correct deafness, so why should not science supply some handy instrument that would stimulate the olfactory fibers or magnify the potency of olfactory?"

IRISHMEN FLOCK TO ROOSEVELT

Without any apparent attempt on the part of the campaign committees it is found that Irishmen are flocking to Roosevelt and Fairbanks all over the country. Irishmen who know their country's history well are protectionists and consequently Republicans.

Perhaps the letters of John Mitchell, whom every workingman holds in great respect, to the New York American has done more than anything else to drive workingmen and Irishmen in particular, from the party of Free Trade. Says
Mr. Mitchell in a recent letter:

"Ireland has suffered, and is still suffering, from the evils of the past hundred and fifty years. During the eighteenth century the English government adopted toward Ireland somewhat the same policy that it sought to adopt toward the American colonies. The industrial development of the island was crushed out by the commercial policy of England, and the industries of the country died under the influence of the competition of its stronger rival.

"The Irish, driven out of industry, were forced into agriculture; and even here they lost ground, especially after the adoption of free trade, which removed the duties from foreign grain.
In the competition with the great grain-producing countries of America, Russia and India, Ireland was left far behind. And the failure of the potato crop sixty years ago crushed the last element of hopefulness out of the people. The peasants were ground down between the upper millstone of falling prices for their produce and the other millstone of rising, or at least, stationary rents for their lands, and as each year passed the condition of the population grew steadily worse.

"The result was that the Irish were squeezed out of Ireland. Hundreds of thousands died during the famine of 1846, when the food, for the want of which the people were starving, was shipped out of Ireland. Those who could, sought refuge in America, and during the last sixty years a steady stream of emigration has poured out of the country. At every census the population has decreased. In 1841 there were almost eight and a quarter millions of inhabitants in the land. At the present time there are less than four and a half millions."

This is a terrible indictment against England's policy toward Ireland, while the Republican policy of protection has an effect just the reverse both at home and abroad. This is why, without any particular campaign work, the Irish votes will go to Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

LIKE ROOSEVELT

Recently an elderly admirer of the president was talking to a young superintendent of an Indian school. They were both civil service men, who have very little to say in politics, as a rule, but who have as good a right to their views as any one else. The elder man remarked:

"See here, —, I have known you for two years, and couldn't tell to save my life, whether you are a Democrat or a Republican."

"Ha! Ha! Same here. I have never heard what you are. But I am not afraid to say that I am a Democrat.
Still, I'll vote for Theodore Roosevelt,
if he runs against any one but W. J.
Bryan. Now, how do you stand, old man?"

"O, I'd vote for Roosevelt against any living man. But why are you, a Democrat, so fond of Roosevelt?"

"My dear sir, young Democrats all over this country are fond of Roosevelt. He appeals to the young man more than any other candidate that was ever before the people. If the Democratic convention puts up some figurehead to run, the Lord help him. I believe he will be beaten worse than Seymour was."

The voters, familiarly known as "the masses," do not show any particular enthusiasm over the offer of James J.
Hill, August Belmont, George J. Peabody and other multimillionaires to defend them against the oppressions of Theodore Roosevelt.

We are surprised that Tom Watson is surprised at the political gyrations of the Democratic party. Tom belonged to the organization when it was putting professional contortionists out of business through sheer envy.

The New York Herald declares that
"New York Democrats must wake up."
Their chances of success would be improved if some of them would shut up.

What has become of those Democratic newspapers and orators that were ensuring the president for failure to punish the postoffice bootleggers?

Democrats object to the personality of Roosevelt almost as strongly as they do the impersonality of their own standard bearer.

MIND BLANK.

Strange and Unaccountable Actions of Wealthy Texas on Long Trip.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 13.—Louis Schaeffer, a wealthy German manufacturer, banker, and stockman of Brenham, Texas, returned home Saturday after having been absent since July 5.

His mind is a blank as to where he has spent the intervening time, except that he remembers taking a long ocean voyage and that he visited Germany.

When he disappeared from home all track of him was lost, though the best detective talent in the country was employed to find some clue.

When Mr. Schaeffer returned to Brenham he was not recognized by his most intimate friends, as he had changed greatly in appearance. He was pale, hollow eyed, and emaciated, and instead of being bearded wore a heavy mustache and a full set of whiskers.

He had no reason for leaving his home
and business affairs, and could only remember that he had taken a long walk and had embarked upon a train somewhere and that when it reached its destination he got off.

Then he wandered around the city until he came to the wharves and saw a boat about to leave. He purchased a ticket and got aboard. When he arrived at the boat's destination he took some train and at last found himself in Berlin. In the same wandering way he retraced his steps and arrived home.

Street Inspector James Eaker was called to Tyranna, Ark., by the illness of his brother, Mr. Gus Eaker, who is a railroad man. Mr. Eaker left last night.

DOUBLES CAPITAL.

Mr. W. B. Smith's Bank to Have New Quarters.

The Courier-Journal says of the Louisville bank now owned by Mr. W.
B. Smith, until recently of the Globe
Bank and Trust Co., of Paducah:

"Developments of an interesting nature are promised on September 20 in connection with the reorganization of the Western National bank and its capital stock will be doubled, becoming $300,- 000 instead of $150,000. The additional stock has already been subscribed by Louisville and Kentucky capitalists, but delay in carrying out the plans of the bank has been met, owing to the existence of a statute which had not formerly been taken into consideration.
When a state bank seeks a national charter with an increase of capital stock, it is first necessary to increase the capital of the state bank to the extent desired.

In addition to the increase of capitalization, the directors of the bank will elect a cashier, but the man who is contemplated for the place is not yet known. It is said arrangements will be made at the meeting for moving the bank to its new location on Fourth avenue.

VETERANS MEET TONIGHT.
The Jim Walbert camp of Kentucky
Confederate veterans will meet tonight for the purpose of ascertaining exactly how many members will attend the big reunion at Earlinton.

The town will be thrown open to the veterans during the reunion and everything will be free but the entertainment committee desires to know exactly how many will attend so as to prepare for their coming. This will be the only matter of importance to act on at the meeting.

ABILENA
Abilena is natural water. It holds in solution salts dissolved from natural deposits in the earth. It is Nature's cathartic compound—a natural mineral water. Mineral waters are recognized everywhere as the most efficient, as well as the least injurious, cathartics. Abilena is the best mineral water on the American market. It is The American Natural Cathartic. The discovery of Abilena was a simple revelation of nature.
For a long time after the first well was dug, the water, being unfit for domestic purposes, was not used at all. Practical tests afterward disclosed its medicinal properties and the report of its virtue was rapidly disseminated. Finally several chemists analyzed the water and the results manifested its great therapeutic value and preindicated its future renown. Sold only by

NEW TRUSTEES

Board of Education Held a Called Meeting Last Night.

Dr. J. T. Reddick and Mr. John Hook
Selected to Fill Vacancies.

Dr. J. T. Reddick was chosen a member of the board of education from the Third ward to succeed Mr.
H. C. Overbey, resigned, and Mr.
John Hook a member from the Fifth ward to succeed Mr. W. G. McFadden, resigned at a called meeting of the Board of Education last night. Dr.
Reddick was formerly president of the board and made one of the best officers and one of the most popular trustees Paducah ever had.

The board last night decided not to change the boundaries established in order to determine which schools pupils have to attend. The board has mapped off the city and ordered that pupils residing in certain districts attend certain schools, and there has been some complaint. The board has made the apportionment as it thinks best for the city, however, and last night decided to make no changes.

It was decided not to appeal the decision of Circuit Judge Reed that all pupils six years old may attend the public schools. The board seems to be pleased with the decision, and will abide by it in the future.

CHARGES READY

PAPERS TO BE FILED WITH BOARD OF ALDERMEN IN HESSELTON CASE.

Mayor Yeiser has prepared written charges against City Weigher Hesselton, which he expects to file with President Charles Reed, of the board of aldermen today.

Some of the city officials are trying to claim that Hesselton is being "persecuted." It is known that he was put there to pay a political debt however, not because he was competent, and it is also known why charges have not been preferred against him before and why certain councilmen and others have been so enthusiastic in his defense.

cah.

BUILDING FOOD

TO BRING THE BABIES AROUND.

When a little human machine (or a large one) goes wrong, nothing is so important as the selection of food which will always bring it around again.

"My little baby boy fifteen months old had pneumonia, then came brain fever, and no sooner had he got over these than he began to cut teeth, and, being so weak, he was frequently thrown into convulsions," says a Colorado mother.

"I decided a change might help, so took him to Kansas City for a visit. When we got there he was so very weak when he would cry he would sink away and seemed like he would die."

"When I reached my sister's home she said immediately that we must feed him Grape-Nuts and milk. He had never used the food, we got some and for a few days gave him just the juice of Grape-Nuts and milk. He got stronger so quickly we were soon feeding him the Grape-Nuts itself and in a wonderfully short time he fattened right up and became strong and well."

"That showed me something worth knowing and, when later on my girl came, I raised her on Grape-Nuts and she is a strong healthy baby and has been. You will see from the little photograph I send you what a strong chubby youngster the boy is now, but he didn't look anything like that before we found this nourishing food. Grape-Nuts nourished him back to strength when he was so weak he couldn't keep any other food on his stomach." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

All children can be built to a more sturdy and healthy condition upon Grape-Nuts and cream. The food contains the elements nature demands, from which to make the soft gray filling in the nerve centers and brain. A well fed brain and strong, sturdy nerves absolutely insure a healthy body.

WANTS R-R-EVENGE

JACK WHITESIDES TALKS ABOUT GOING BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Jack Whitesides, better known as "Three Finger Jack," stated this morning that tomorrow he would go before the grand jury if he was permitted and try to have Mr. Dick Calissi indicted for house breaking.

Whitesides was engaged by Mr. Calissi to run a saloon which was closed on account of a controversy over the license. Whitesides took up his residence there and when Mr. Calissi ordered him out, refused to leave. Mr. Calissi caught him out of the saloon one day and put a padlock on the door, breaking the other lock off, it is said, and Whitesides broke the lock Mr. Calissi put on off when he returned and entered. He was arraigned in police court and fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct.

He claims he rented the building from Mr. Calissi and that Mr. Calissi in breaking off the lock and entering, was guilty of housebreaking. It is probable that Jack's attempt to cause more trouble will prove futile.

WARNING SENT OUT NOT TO RUSH TO PANAMA WITHOUT GETTING EMPLOYMENT

Washington, Sept. 4.—John Barrett, the American minister to Panama, has made a special report to the state department relative to the present and future conditions of the isthmus as affected by the building of the Panama Canal, which is intended to prevent serious disappointment on the part of adventurous Americans attracted towards Panama since the resumption of the enterprise. It is understood that the Panama commission is especially desirous to secure the widest publicity for the warnings sent out by Mr. Barrett. The report in substance is as follows: "First—No man seeking a position as clerk, stenographer, typewriter, engineer, foreman or any similar class of labor which the average American is willing to perform should come to the isthmus in expectation of securing a position unless he has made some previous arrangement for employment. More men of this kind are now coming to Panama and Colon than there are positions to be filled. The cost of living is very high, prices having increased nearly 300 per cent. in the last six months.

"Second—There are not at present many opportunities for the establishment of new mercantile business and professional firms, and there should not be an influx of merchants, business and professional men in the expectation of finding considerable and ready openings for establishing themselves.

"Third—It is the consensus of opinion among members of the commission and others that both Americans in the United States and Panamanians here have greatly exaggerated the increase of population which will result from the construction of the canal, and that, including those who will be employed on the canal and others who will come, the increase will be only about 25,000 people. This number, moreover, will not be coming here at once, but gradually through a period of years and as they may be required.

"Fourth—There is not yet any real boom in Panama. In Colon or in the zone, but rents for houses, stores and offices have doubled and tripled during the last few months and are now almost exorbitantly high.

"Fifth—The disagreeable and unhealthy features of the Panama climate have been overestimated by those who have studied the situation superficially while passing across the isthmus in transit or who desire to create a sensation. As a matter of fact, there has not been during the months of July and August a single uncomfortable night for sleeping, while the average days have not been hotter than those of New York and Washington. There has been a single case of yellow fever for over a month, and there is less malaria than is often found in sections of the United States where there is considerable turning of the soil. My corrections of overdrawn criticisms of the Panama climate must not, however, be interpreted as meaning that there are not unfavorable features here. They exist as they do in all tropical lands. When the present able sanitary corps who have charge of improving health conditions in the isthmus have carried out their plans for the improvement of the canal strip of the cities of Panama and Colon there is no reason why this isthmus should not be one of the healthiest places in the world."

POTATO BUGS.

Killed by the Thousands Under the Wheels—They Grease the Tracks.

Railway, N. J., Sept. 4.—"Never saw so many potato bugs before in all my life," said former Mayor Holmes of this city when he boarded a trolley car of the Railway and Woodbridge branch at Boynton Beach.

"That's so," assented Hoffman, the conductor. "Why, they're thicker than flies. Yes, they're thicker'n mosquitoes." Which was the furthest a Jerseyman could go in making comparisons.

By and by it was noticed the car was not traveling at its usual rate of speed. "What's the matter with the power, Jack?" shouted Hoffman to John Barton, the motorman.

"Power nothing," came the retort from the front platform. Power's all right. It's bugs. I'm killing 'em by the thousands and they're greasing the rails."

A minute later the car stopped. Hoffman shouted to Barton to go ahead. "Can't," retorted Barton. "The bugs have got us tied up."

The passengers got out and pushed the car over that particular greasy spot. The vehicle went on. But soon it slowed again and came to another stop, the wheels turning vainly. Barton reversed the power, sent the car back, stopped and shot ahead, hoping the momentum would be enough to clear the greasy spot. But the wheels slid and stuck. "Sand the rails," said Hoffman. That was done and the car finally reached this place, far behind time.

"And I heard farmers say," said Mr. Holmes, "that on account of the great cold last winter there'd be no potato bugs this year."

SPRAINS.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Texas, writes, March 11th, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Yesterday afternoon it was learned that the checks were forged and the police have since been looking for Brown, alias McCoy, but without success.

REAL ROMEO.

Remarkable Death of Young Man and Young Woman Reported Near Rotterdam.

Rotterdam, Sept. 13.—A sensation has been created in the town of Gouda by the remarkable death of two lovers.

A young man named Visser was shortly to have been married to Louisa Pauw, a pretty lacemaker, when it was discovered that his father some years ago died in prison for the murder of the young girl's brother.

The girl thereupon refused to marry Visser, and openly declared her intention to commit suicide. Her parents did not take her threats seriously, but two days ago they discovered her lying senseless on the floor of her bedroom with an empty bottle of chloroform by her side. Medical aid was summoned, but she was declared to be dead.

Visser appealed to be allowed to see the body before interment, and yesterday permission having been granted he entered the room where it lay and killed himself with a revolver. At the sound of the shots the supposed corpse began to move, and finally sat up in the coffin.

Most of the spectators fled terror-stricken, but the girl's father lifted her into a chair and began to apply restoratives. Ultimately she regained complete consciousness, but on sighting the blood stained body of her lover lying on the floor she died of shock.

In regard to the order to Chief of Police Collins from the general council relative to enforcing the automobile ordinance, it was agreed that the general council has nothing to do with the chief of police and orders should be given through the police board.

Moran of the Lady Letty

By
FRANK NORRIS.

Author of "The Octopus," "The Fid," "Etc."

Copyright, 1898, by
S. S. McClure Company

All that was strong and virile and brutal in him seemed to harden and stiffen in the moment after he had seen the beachcomber collapse limply on the sand under that last strong knife blow, and a sense of triumph, of boundless self confidence, leaped within him, so that he shouted aloud in a very excess of exhilaration, and, snatching up a heavy cutting-in spade that had been dropped in the fight near the burning cabin, tossed it high into the air, catching it again as it descended, like any exultant savage.

"Come on!" he cried to Moran. "Where are the beachcombers gone? I'm going to get one more before the show is over."

The two passed out of the zone of smoke and reached the other side of the burning cabin just in time to see the last of the struggle. The whole affair had not taken more than a quarter of an hour. In the end the beachcombers had been beaten. Four had tied into the waste of sand and sage that lay back of the shore and had not been pursued, a fifth had been almost hamstringed by one of the Bertha's coolies and had given himself up, a sixth, squealing and shrieking like a tiger cat, had been made prisoner, and Wilbur himself had accounted for the seventh.

As Wilbur and Moran came around the cabin they saw the Bertha Miller's Chinamen in a group not far from the water's edge, reasssembled after the fight, panting and bloody, some of them bare to the belt, their weapons still in their hands. Here and there was a bandaged arm or head, but their number was complete—or, no, was it complete?

"Ought to be one more," said Wilbur, anxiously hastening forward.

—As the two came up the coolies parted, and Wilbur saw one of them, his head propped up on a rolled up blouse, lying motionless still on the trampled sand.

"It's Charlie!" exclaimed Moran.

"Where's he hurt?" cried Wilbur to the group of coolies. "Jim—where's Jim's? Where's he hurt, Jim?"

Jim, the only member of the crew besides Charlie who could understand or speak English, answered:

"Kai-ling him in the pistol, you pistol. Charlie him fight plenty. Blimey, when he no see one piece Kai-ling he come up behind, shoot um Charlie in side—savvy?"

"Did he kill him? Is he dead?"

"No, I tinkum die plenty soon. Him no savvy nuttin' now. Him all same sleep. Plenty soon blimey him sleep for good, I tink."

There was little blood to be seen when Wilbur gently uncovered the torn sleeve of a blouse that had been used as a bandage. Just under the armpit was the mark of the bullet, a small puncture already closed, half hidden under a clot or two of blood. The coolie lay quite unconscious, his eyes wide open, drawing a faint, quick breath at irregular intervals.

"What do you think, mate?" asked Moran in a low voice.

"I think he's got it through the lungs," answered Wilbur, frowning in distress and perplexity. "Poor old Charlie!"

Moran went down on a knee and put a finger on the slim, corded wrist, yellow as old ivory.

"Charlie!" she called. "Charlie! Here! Don't you know me? Wake up, old chap! It's Moran. You're not hurt so very bad, are you?"

Charlie's eyes closed and opened a couple of times.

"No can tell," he answered feebly. "Hurt plenty big." Then he began to cough.

Wilbur drew a sigh of relief. "He's all right!" he exclaimed.

"Yes, I think he's all right," assented Moran.

"First thing to do now is to get him aboard the schooner," said Wilbur.

"We'll take him right across in the beachcombers' dory here. By Jove!" he exclaimed on a sudden. "The ambergris! I'd forgotten all about it!"

His heart sank. In the hideous confusion of that morning's work all thought of the loot had been forgotten. Had the battle been for nothing, after all? The moment the beachcombers had been made aware of the meditated attack it would have been an easy matter for them to have hidden the ambergris—destroyed it even.

In two strides Wilbur had reached the beachcombers' dory and was groping in the forward caddy. Then he uttered a great shout of satisfaction. The "stuff" was there, all of it, though the mass had been cut into quarters, three parts of it stowed in tea tins, the fourth still reeved up in the hammock netting.

"We've got it!" he cried to Moran, who had followed him. "We've got it, Moran! Over $100,000! We're rich—rich as bodiers, you and I! Oh, it was worth fighting for, after all, wasn't it? Now we'll get out of here—now we'll cut for home."

"It's only Charlie I'm thinking about," answered Moran, hesitating. "If it wasn't for that we'd be all right. I don't know whether we did right, after all, in jumping the camp here. I wouldn't like to feel that I'd got Charlie into our quarrel only to have him killed."

Wilbur stared at this new Moran in no little amazement. Where was the reckless, unfamed girl of the previous night, who had sworn at him and denounced his niggling misgivings as to right and wrong?

"Joh!" he retorted impatiently. "Charlie's right enough. And, besides, I didn't force him to anything. I—we—that is, we took the same chances. If I hadn't done for my man there behind the cabin, he would have done for me. At all events, we carried our point. We got the loot. They took it from us, and we were strong enough to get it back."

Moran merely nodded, as though satisfied with his decision, and added:

"Well, what next, mate?"

"We'll get back to the Bertha now and put to sea as soon as we can catch the tide. I'll send Jim and two of the other men across in the dory with Charlie. The rest of us will go around by the shore. We've got to have a chin-chin with Hoang, if he don't get loose aboard there and fire the boat before we can get back. I don't propose taking these beachcombers back to Frisco with us."

"What will we do with the two prisoners?" he asked.

"Let them go. We've got their arms."

The positions of the two were reversed. It was Wilbur who assumed control and direction of what went forward. Moran taking his advice and relying upon his judgment.

In accordance with Wilbur's orders, Charlie was carried aboard the dory, which, with two Chinamen at the oars, and the ambergris stowed again into the caddy, at once set off for the schooner. Wilbur himself cut the ropes on the two prisoners and bade them shift for themselves. The rest of the party returned to the Bertha Miller around the wide sweep of the beach.

It was only by high noon, under the flogging of a merciless sun, that the entire crew of the little schooner once more reassembled under the shadow of her stranded bulk. They were quite worn out, and as soon as Charlie was lifted aboard and the ambergris—or, as they spoke of it now, the "loot"—was safely stowed in the cabin, Wilbur allowed the Chinamen three or four hours' rest. They had had neither breakfast nor dinner, but their exhaustion was greater than their hunger, and in a few moments the entire half dozen were stretched out asleep on the forward deck in the shadow of the foresail, raised for the purpose of sheltering them. However, Wilbur and Moran sought out Hoang, whom they found as they had left him, bound upon the floor of the cabin.

"Now we have a talk—savvy?" Wilbur told him as he loosed the ropes about his wrists and ankles. "We got our loot back from you, old man, and we got one of your men into the bargain. You woke up the wrong crowd, Hoang, when you went up against this outfit. You're in a bad way, my friend. Your junk is wrecked, all your oil and blubber from the whale is lost, four of your men have run away, one is killed, another one was caught and let go, another one has been hamstringed, and you yourself are our prisoner, with your teeth filed down to your gums. Now," continued Wilbur, with the profoundest gravity, "I hope this will be a lesson to you. Don't try and get too much the next time. Just be content with what is yours by right or what you are strong enough to keep, and don't try to fight white people. Other coolies, I don't say. But when you try to get the better of white people you are out of your class."

The little beachcomber was scarcely above five feet, rubbed his chafed wrists and fixed Wilbur with his tiny, twinkling eyes.

"What you do now?"

VLADIVOSTOK A FORTRESS SUPERIOR TO PORT ARTHUR

HISTORY OF VLADIVOSTOK.

Acquired by Russia from China 1861.

Founded 1861.

Fortified on small scale 1877.

Converted into naval and military base 1887.

Had grown to 34,500 in 1895.

Russia began to colonize it in 1900.

Brought in 28,806 peasants in 1900.

Brought in 15,190 Koreans in 1900.

Brought in 28,256 peasants in 1901.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 12—Vladivostok, "Sovereign of the East," is pre-eminent a fortress. It is also the chief town of East Siberia—in fact, it may be said to be the most important seat of Russian influence in the Far East.

It is more formidable than Port Arthur, much more magnificent than Dairen, much larger than Khabarovsk, and it passes such an admirable harbor that it is not surprising that the Russians regard the town and its surroundings as the hub of Greater Russia in the East.

In its physical geographical surroundings, Vladivostok resembles Port Arthur. Both are situated on peninsulas and can be approached quite closely on three sides by a fleet of the enemy—an undesirable condition.

The town is situated on the slopes of a high ridge, forming a tapering peninsula, which projects into an irregular land-locked bay. The entrance is commanded by Russia Island, where there is an important fort, and on the crests of the land-locked harbor, stretching for miles to the eastward, and known as the Golden Horn, there are other continuous chains of earthworks and defensive positions.

The lofty hills on the northwest protect the port from the land side, and in the deep water of the Golden Horn, which is four miles long and a half mile in width, ships ride comfortably at anchor, comparatively free from the menace of attack, and wholly beyond the reach of the weather. Clusters of suburban residences are scattered about the hillside, even descending in places to the level of the water.

The main street, Svetlanskaya, named after the frigate upon which the Grand Duke Alexis visited the port in 1873, follows the curve of the Golden Horn. Lying between the street and the shore, on rising ground, are the residences of the commandant of the port, the public gardens, the admiralty garden, the museum of the Geographical society, the residence of the governor of Primorsk, the grounds of the Maritime club, the native bazaar and the steamboat quay.

At one point there is a magnificent granite monument surmounted by a bronze globe, on which perches an eagle, with outstretched wings. This monument, commemorates the memory of Admiral Nevelski, who made several voyages to the east in the early 50's.

The Svetlanskaya is crossed by the Aleutskaia, and the point at which these two streets intersect is the commercial center of the town. The main street is well paved with granite, and it is efficiently drained. The sidewalks are raised and asphalted, the houses are imposing and lofty structures of brick.

Such architectural beauty as Vladivostok possesses—and it is much compared with the untidy wastes of Siberian towns—is due to the cheapness of Chinese workmanship. Chinese labor is responsible for the present condition of the streets, for the construction of the naval quays, while the Chinese artificer is the most reliable workman in the Vladivostok dock yard. The fortress possesses one large dry dock, a sectional floating dock near the eastern extremity of the Golden Horn, and a supplementary dry dock, which was in course of construction when the war broke out.

The trade of Vladivostok is comprehensive. Its imports include most of the products of the west, while its exports are characteristic of its position, and quite local as regards their destination. As a commercial center, Vladivostok is superior to Dairen, although the wonderful city which is in process of completion in the vicinity of Port Arthur threatens one day to eclipse its northern sister.

The native population, though very large, is orderly and contented, but there is a very cosmopolitan population in Vladivostok, made up of adventurers from all climes—English, French, German and American business men from the west, and a sprinkling of women from San Francisco.

Upon the whole, it is a motley, uninviting community, from which the principles of morality are strangely wanting. However, the days speed merrily enough in Vladivostok; there is no little social gaiety, and although the place is a military and naval center, there is little harshness of discipline and much good feeling. In the hills around the harbor there is good sport. The stranger has been always welcomed.

INSPECTOR COMES

Another Government Man Investigating Here.

He Will Decide on the Advisability of a Cattle Quarantine.

Mr. F. W. Hopkins, of Cairo, arrived last evening on business connected with the cattle situation in Paducah. He is government inspector, and on his report may rest the cattle quarantine mentioned a short time ago.

The government learned a short time ago that the county was not keeping the southern cattle isolated from domestic and other cattle in the stockyards and elsewhere, and ordered provisions made for keeping them apart.

If it is done to the satisfaction of the government inspector, there will be no quarantine. This is what Mr. Hopkins is here for. He will make a report on the conditions after he has made the necessary inspections in Paducah and vicinity, and if he finds danger of infection from "ticky" cattle a quarantine may be ordered.

ELECTION OFFICERS

THEY ARE TO BE APPOINTED BY COUNTY BOARDS THURSDAY.

Both Democratic and Republican election officers to serve in the coming November election will be appointed by the County Boards of Election Commissioners throughout the state Thursday.

It is not likely that there will be any contention over the appointments here, as the board usually appoints a full list submitted by the Republican and Democratic organizations.

Both Republican and Democratic City and County Executive Committees will meet this week to prepare the lists of election officers they desire to have serve in the coming election. A sheriff, a clerk and two judges are appointed for each precinct. Each party has one judge, and where one party has the sheriff the other is given the clerk. Challengers and inspectors are also allowed each party.

The state election in Maine is being held today. The Republican State Committee predicts a plurality of 10,000 to 15,000 for the Republican candidate for governor.

A QUIET CAMPAIGN SEEMS IT WILL BE

Chairman Cortelyou is Much Pleased.

A Democratic Campaign Fake Has Been Exploded By the Chairman.

IS NOT AFRAID OF SCHURZ

Chicago, Ill., September 13.—Chairman Cortelyou of the republican national committee says that national conditions were responsible for the quietness of the present campaign. Business men were satisfied with the situation, he said, and were not disposed to be stampeded by any talk of danger from a large standing army or a possibility of the impulsiveness of President Roosevelt leading the country into disastrous warfare.

Mr. Cortelyou said, further, that any attempt on the part of the democrats to bring about a comparison of the personalities of the two candidates would be welcomed by the republicans. He believed the people to be admirers of the president and placed confidence in him. The very things which the democrats found fault with, said the chairman, were things which made the president strong with the people. The chairman said this had been demonstrated by the democratic national committee recalling much of the printed matter which it had sent out, attacking the president.

Mr. Cortelyou referred particularly to a folk containing quotations from President Roosevelt's books and speeches, one of which was that in which the president was quoted as having referred to the farmers as "the basest of men."

"It so happened," said Mr. Cortelyou, "that I heard that speech myself. What the president did say was a compliment to the farmers, and not what he is quoted as saying. No man would make such a statement, and President Roosevelt certainly did not."

Another phase of the campaign to which Mr. Cortelyou referred was the position of the democratic metropolitan press. While many of these papers were supporting Judge Parker, he said, they were unable to agree on what issues were of the most importance.

Carl Schurz is to make seventeen speeches in Illinois under the auspices of the Parker-Davis German-American league. Mr. Schurz is to speak at Elgin, Decatur, Peoria and five times in the 22nd district.

The national committee is not disposed to view the coming of Mr. Schurz with any alarm. The members believe Mr. Schurz has ceased to be a political factor.

"He is an expert political acrobat," said Chairman Tawney of the speakers bureau, "whom I do not believe will yield much influence over the Germans in Illinois."

"He has shifted front so often," said Vice Chairman New, "that I can not conceive his influence would be dangerous. His position has been different at every presidential election. Eight and four years ago the Germans were with us, and I do not believe they can be delivered bodily to the democratic party by Mr. Schurz or any one else."

LIVELY FIGHT

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT AND A JUROR FOUGHT IN COURT HOUSE YARD.

County School Superintendent A. M. Ragsdale and W. E. Downing, the latter a school trustee of school district No. 25 who is now serving on the petit jury, had a fight in the court house yard at 12 o'clock today.

Prof. Ragsdale and Mr. Downing had a controversy over the removal of a school house a short time ago that wound up in a trial and the matter was brought up again this morning. They both became angry, ending in Downing jumping on Ragsdale, the latter claims, and striking him about 50 times. They were separated by friends.

The matter was reported to the police who will issue a warrant. Prof. Ragsdale was not seriously injured.

WILL STOP NOISE.

General Manager George C. Wallace, of the street car company, today stated that the company would do all possible to reduce the noise made by the street cars. It is impossible to eliminate all the noise, but every effort will be made to do away with as much as possible.

TWO ESTATES

Appraisal of the W. B. Weeks Estate Filed.

Interest In Business Is $15,000—The Lawrence Drennan Estate.

An appraisal of the estate of the late W. B. Weeks has been filed in county court.

The appraisers are F. B. Smith, O. E. Jennings and E. P. Noble and the appraisal is made as follows: Household effects, cooking utensils, etc., are appraised at about $148.35, and these are set aside for the widow and infant heirs. Two horses, ten sheep, poultry, cows and calves and wagons were reported not on hand but in lieu of this a laundry outfit, refrigerators, side board, silverware, curtains, etc., were set aside for the widow and infants the total value amounting to several hundred dollars.

Other property he left was one Equitable Life Insurance policy for $5,000. One fifth interest in a policy with the Fidelity Mutual Insurance Company, valued at $1,000 and 24 shares of capital stock in the Globe Bank and Trust Company, valued at $100 each, total $2,400.

The deceased was a member of the firm of Weeks Bros. & Co., and managed the business. The appraisers carefully investigated the holdings of the deceased and appraised his interest at $15,467.21.

The appraisal of the property of Lawrence Drennan by W. F. Bradshaw, guardian and appraiser, was fixed at $1,600, the amount paid by the Illinois Central for damages. The deceased was killed by an accident on the Illinois Central.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

Gauge today 2.2, and still falling. The bottom seems to have fallen out of the stream.

The Henry Harley left at 8 a. m. for Cairo with a good trip.

Capt. Harry Gilbert, of the John S. Hopkins, is here on business.

The Luella Warren will enter the Cumberland river trade for the low water season, leaving today on her first trip.

The Bob Dudley is the Evansville packet, but she is not expected until this afternoon. She leaves immediately on her return.

The Royal leaves at 3 p. m. for Goodland.

The Charleston leaves at 6 p. m. today for the Tennessee river.

The Minnetonka leaves today for Memphis, after undergoing thorough repairs on the ways here.

The Clyde arrived from Tennessee river and returns tomorrow night.

While the river is pretty low, it hasn't become so low the old reliable ferryboat Bettie Owen can't run. It is rather remarkable that while low water is the dread of most boats, it is high water only that lays up the ferryboat, as it floods the landings on the other side of the river. It seldom gets too low for the Owen.

HAS CERTIFICATE

THE FACTS IN THE CASE OF MISS KIRK.

The statement in yesterday's paper in regard to Miss Susanne Kirk, whose position was declared vacant and another teacher elected to succeed her, was unintentionally misleading. Miss Kirk has a certificate to teach. It was so used under the former board of education, but the examination under which it was issued, it is stated by the school authorities, was not held at the regular time, and while the certificate was irregular, the old board of education by resolution made it regular.

The present board, however, ordered Miss Kirk to take another examination and get another certificate. In other words, the present board refused to recognize the certificate that the old board had recognized. The certificate she holds would have entitled her to teach in the schools had the present board elected to recognize it, but the board ordered her to take another examination, and she states that she received no notice of it, and consequently did not know that it was expected of her, while the school authorities claim to have notified her, and that she failed to comply.

Fire at Idaho Mills, Idaho, destroyed property worth $100,000 and threatened to sweep away the entire town.

WAS ACQUITTED

Son of Attorney Sam Crossland Kills a Negro.

Was a Desperado and Young Mayfield Man Was Justified.

Cas B. Crossland, of Mayfield, son of Attorney Sam H. Crossland, was yesterday at Wickliffe acquitted for killing George Hanna, a negro.

Crossland is court stenographer of the First District circuit court, and after shooting the negro surrendered and claimed he acted in self defense.

A negro festival was in progress and Crossland met the negro and a quarrel began between them. It is said that the negro advanced on Crossland with his hand in his hip pocket threatening his life. Crossland drew his revolver and killed the negro.

NO TRIAL

CASES AGAINST LOUISVILLE NEWSPAPER MEN GO OVER.

Editor Young E. Allison and Reporter George Riley, of the Louisville Herald, returned to the city last evening from Smithland, where they went to be present when the criminal libel cases were called against them in the Livingston circuit court. They were indicted at the instance of Secretary of State H. V. McChesney, and there were several continuances of the case.

Yesterday the cases were called and again continued, and the defendants, with Hon. W. M. Smith, their attorney, left at 1 o'clock this morning for Louisville.

LARGE CROWD

REV. HOLCOMB PREACHED AN INTERESTING SERMON LAST NIGHT.

The Broadway Methodist church was filled to overflowing last evening to hear Rev. Holcomb, the evangelist, who preached a magnificent sermon on "Daniel's Prosperity." The indications are for larger crowds every evening.

Today prayer meetings are to be held in various parts of the city. There will be a men's prayer service at the Baptist church at 4 p. m. today.

CORELLI'S BOOK.

Novelist's New Work Completely Sold Out On First Day.

London, Sept. 13.—The demand for Marie Corelli's new book, "God's Good Man," exhausted the edition on the first day. Forty-three tons of paper were used in producing this edition. This paper placed end for end would stretch more than 3,616 miles and cover a superficial area of 8,883,886 square yards. Miss Corelli also has maintained her record by falling foul of the reviewers. She writes to the Daily Express a sarcastic letter of thanks for its notice, observing that it is clear that the critic didn't read the book.

SEVERAL CHANGES.

Incident to the consolidation of the Noble-Overbey and Covington Bros., wholesale groceries there have been a number of changes. Mr. Horace Shinn, bookkeeper for several years with Noble-Overbey, will when he returns from a visit to Philadelphia, in a few weeks go with J. B. Smith. Mr. Herbert Elliott goes with Baker-Eccles. Messrs. Tom Argus and Charles Bradley went with Covington Bros. and James Johnson went with Baker-Eccles.

BURIAL WAS AT MAYFIELD.
Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wright will return this afternoon from Mayfield, where they went to attend the funeral of Dr. C. T. Wright, a brother of Mrs. Wright. NO BUYER YET.

River men do not seem to know of anyone who will buy the Chattanooga when she is sold on the 28th, but seem to think that a purchaser will come along, as she can be made into a good boat. A number of people are looking for good steamers about her size, and some are expected here on the date of sale.
